3/27/93

Mr. Farris Rookstool III
1801 N. Lamar St., #300
Dallas, TX 75202

Dear Farris,

When speaking to Gary Mack, remembering inccorectly that Harry Livingstone had again referred to you in his November 18, 1992 letter, I asked for Gary's permission to send it to you. On the chance that other content may be of interest, I enclose it anyway.

In the letter I recall he spelled your name "Rookstoole," different that his earlier misspelling, and again said you were working with him.

It is an earlier letter and I enclose it also. October 12, 1992. Found it.

He has identified the two retired SAs as Paul Rothermel and Currington.

Your office is lucky if it has not had the experience I understand the Baltimore police have had as a reaction to Harry Sherlock's allegations of working with them. I understand it has led to many phone calls and letters offering "help."

Sincerely,

Harold

Harold Weisberg